Sunset Teachers Are Retained By Trustees

The new Sunset School Board of Trustees met in regular session Tuesday, and one of its first official acts was to vote retention of the present teaching staff at existing salaries for the year to follow summer vacation. E. H. Ewig was in the chair and Mrs. Louis Levinson was taking duties of clerk following an organization meeting of last week.

The board then told the large gathering of spectators about a recent conference with Structural Engineer Cope, of San Francisco, regarding reinforcement of school buildings in line with the state inspector's earthquake hazard report of last summer. It has taken longer than thought to gather data and work out figures on expected costs, but this should soon be ready for public announcement and will probably become subject of a bond issue election.

It is hoped that the work can be completed during the vacation period, although on this point the board could make no promises.

At the next public meeting, date of which is to be set, the annual budget will be thoroughly aired for taxpayers' benefit, and indications are that it will not differ greatly from the past season. The board showed firm willingness to take up all phases of school activity, and showed competent grasp of problems both from the teachers' viewpoint, the parents' and the public generally, as well as frankly facing stubborn facts and planning intelligently toward dealing with them.

Chief Gus Englund Has House Warming

Marshal Gus Englund gave the fire department a brief workout Monday evening when his chimney did a little Pittsburg and showered sparks generously over the neighborhood. To keep the event a private affair and not disturb the tourists, the alarm was confined to bell-ringing, and the red wagon had only to move outdoors and across the street to be at the scene of trouble.

Chimney fires are old stories in Carmel, and an old method was suggested for coping with this one. "Gimme a sack full of rocks and a rope on it!" shouted one of the volunteers, intending to dunk it up and down the chimney until the fire gave out. As the modern equipment of the department included no sacks full of rocks, a soda extinguisher was used, and the smoke then doubled back on itself and flooded through the house, to the outspoken amazement of arriving onlookers.

FISHERMAN IS DROWNED AT CARMEL HIGHLANDS

Rex Folkman, of Watsonville, lost his life in the surf several miles below Carmel while on a fishing trip with friends last week end. His brother and two companions tried vainly to get him out of the treacherous currents, and although he was a powerful swimmer he was unable to make his way back to safety.

Frequent warnings have been issued following drownings along that part of the coast, but fishermen underestimate the force of the waves and are caught off guard by periodic surges.

CARMEL MAN ENDANGERED IN COAST HIGHWAY CRASH

A head-on collision between the cars of Robert L. Bliss, of Carmel, and F. C. Willis, of Watsonville, resulted in fortunate escape from injury to the drivers. It happened some thirty miles below Carmel on a sharp curve, and Bliss, who reported the accident, charged that Willis was on the wrong side of the highway.

CARMEL STUDENT WINS HIGH COLLEGE HONOR

Thomas Warren, raised in Carmel, has been awarded the Charles Mills Gayley scholarship in law for a period of two years at the University of California. Warren is taking a postgraduate course there, following four years of record-making scholastic marks as an undergraduate.

BARDARSON BOY INJURED WHEN STRUCK BY MACHINE

Little Linne Bardarson, aged three and a half, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Bardarson, will receive his playmates at the Monterey Hospital for some time to come as a result of a fractured bone above the right knee sustained when hit by an automobile last week.

His mother had taken him south to Long Beach, and in a moment of superactivity he dashed out from behind a parked car into the path of an oncoming machine. He clutched the bumper and saved himself from being crushed, but the force broke the leg bone well toward the hip and the injury will require a considerable period of treatment. Immediately after the accident he received emergency attention, was placed in a cast and rushed to the Peninsula, and while the days will be tedious, no complications are expected.

FINE EXHIBIT OF OILS AT CARMEL ART GALLERY

The present showing of oils at the Carmel Art Association gallery on north Dolores Street is giving much pleasure to spectators who are finding the building in steadily increasing numbers. It is especially interesting as an example of the various methods and techniques used by the artist members.

Those who wish to see this show should make it a point to visit the gallery before May 15th, at which time the exhibit will be replaced by a showing of watercolors by many well known members of the local art colony.

PISTOL CLUB MOVES TO OUTDOOR RANGE

The Carmel Pistol Club will shortly move to its outdoor range for the Spring competitions. In the Winter's firing at the indoor range in the basement of the Murphy building at Mission and Ocean streets, very good scores were recorded, and the clubmen found themselves in fourth place among teams of the state groups.

The Town and Country Shop has an exhibit of trophies won by the members, as well as showing of various weapons used in match shooting and a historical display of firearms.

TRAFFIC CASES COME BEFORE JUDGE WOOD

Mild activity in the city court claimed Judge George Wood's attention early in the week.

Mildred Brown, of Monterey, was cited for driving without due caution, and the hearing will be given soon. Raymond Wasson, also of Monterey, crossed Ocean Avenue too rapidly on the 8th, which likewise brought a charge of driving without due caution.

A collision that may lead to court action was that between the car of Mrs. B. Franklin Dixon and that of H. Lewis, the latter reported to lack a driver's license.

COLORED RESIDENTS AID HOSPITAL FUND

Furthering the drive for funds for the Community Hospital, Mrs. Carl Harris and Mrs. Ella Austin of Carmel last week conducted a canvass of Peninsula colored folks and returned from their campaign with approximately $100, which will be turned over to the hospital. Several days were devoted to the work by the two civic minded women and their showing is remarkable inasmuch as contributions were largely made by people who are in most moderate circumstances.

Mrs. Harris, who is the wife of Carl Harris, co-owner of Carl's Auto Service, anticipates that the funds thus far obtained will be materially augmented within the next few weeks.

Irvin S. Cobb Is A Carmel Visitor

Irvin S. Cobb, one of America's most famous humorists, and his daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Cobb Brody, are guests at the ranch-home of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Fish, having arrived late last week from Hollywood where both are signed to do picture work.

Cobb will not only write for them but will also lend his southern drawl to sound recording in a series of shorts by Hol Roach to be called "Irvin S. Cobb presents Irvin S. Cobb." Mrs. Brody, author of the novel "She Was A Lady," will assist in the filming of her work by the Fox organization.

This portly Senior Ambassador from Kentucky should have little difficulty in getting over with picture audiences by just being himself, as his fluency and charming lack of affectation, as well as never being at a loss to find a phrase exactly fitted to the moment, make for endless demands upon his time in all types of gatherings.

Such by-word names as "Speaking of Operations," and of "Judge Priest," come to mind at the beauty of the Carmel scenery.

Bay Region News Writers Entertained at Carmel

Twenty-five visiting newspaper writers were guests of the Serra Festival Committee at the La Playa for dinner last Saturday evening, and were welcomed by Mayor James Thoburn, George Marion, author of the Pageant and actor of the role of Father Serra, and Fred Williams, publicity director for the August event.

Committee plans are now centering on financing the project, as the fundamentals of a publicity outline at one end of the job and the Pageant itself at the other have been thoroughly arranged for. Indications are that Carmel will be filled to overflowing with visitors for that week late in August when with the Mission itself for a background, outstanding scenes from the rugged life of Junipero Serra will be enacted.

The many phases such as housing and feeding the visitors, of parking their cars, and of policing against unwanted carnival followers must be considered and acted upon, and it is to that end many conferences will be required. Among visitors from the Bay area were Mr. and Mrs. T. Sullivan, Don Curzon, Mr. and Mrs. L. Thompson and Floyd Johnson, and included in the Carmel reception committee were Frank Sheridan, Father Michael O'Connell, Frederic Burt, Don Staniford, who is chairman of the general committee, Hayes.

Flames from a blazing incinerator started a brush fire Thursday noon on Camino Real near Ocean Avenue, and caused neighbors to call the department. No damage was reported, but the townsfolk were given a good workout on the hottest day of the present year.

Dr. John MacWillie has left for China where he owns part interest in several Chinese businesses. Dr. MacWillie sailed on the President Hayes.

SILVA CELEBRATES HIS TWENTIETH LOCAL YEAR

William Silva, well known artist and veteran Carmelite, received guests Sunday in his San Antonio Street studio as an inauguration of his twentieth year of exhibiting locally. Italian, French and generally diversified oils, new to Carmel, were on the walls, and spectators, knowing his colorful and commanding work, were amply rewarded in their expectations.

The actual date of the twentieth anniversary will be July 1st, and at that time Mr. Silva will celebrate with a gathering of pioneers who were at the first exhibit in the far-away days of 1914.

FIRE ENGINE CALLED OUT YESTERDAY NOON

Flames from a blazing incinerator started a brush fire Thursday noon on Camino Real near Ocean Avenue, and caused neighbors to call the department. No damage was reported, but the townsfolk were given a good workout on the hottest day of the present year.

Dr. John MacWillie has left for China where he owns part interest in several Chinese businesses. Dr. MacWillie sailed on the President Hayes.

MAE WEST IS INVITED TO LEGION BARN DANCE

Mae West will be the guest of honor at the American Legion Barn Dance on June 9th, at the Old Monterey Polo Club, if present plans carry through, according to the committee that met recently to discuss the fund-raising affair to send the Monterey Peninsula Post No. 41 championship drum corps to the Oakland State Convention. The telegraph wires are busy with the idea, and the most talked-of star will crowd 'em in if she can come up for a time and lend her name and curves to the occasion.

with Louis Trenner appointed special body guard assisted by Supervisor Andy Jacobsen, Sam Morse, Chief Fred Moore and Eddie Burns. Carmel newspapermen will handle much of the publicity. A break, what? On the committee presided over by Mrs. Olga Fish, besides the above mentioned persons, are included Colonel Landers, Dr. J. B. Finley, Charles Frost, Nat Head, William O'Donnell, Joe Thorn, Kit Cooke, Winsor Josselyn, Jack Jordan, Jo Mora, Dick Collins, Ad Hanke, Bud Crossman, Maud Hill and Mrs. Maude Hill Dorsey.

Asilomar has been a focal point for some of the most valuable work in welfare undertakings that the state has known, and it is hoped that through informing the public of the impending change there will be a concerted movement toward its retention. The Missionary Society is taking one angle of this project by showing that modern day missionary schedules, which are yearly brought to group notice at Asilomar, include educational factors invaluable to communities, and that hospital, evangelical and general welfare accomplishments will be endangered if the meeting grounds are to be done away with.

The Parish Guild luncheon recently held was in honor of Miss Harriet Bakewell, president of the House of Church Women, and gave an interesting account of the scattered districts of the Salinas Valley.

Mrs. A. Page has left Carmel for San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fuller visited Mrs. Fuller's mother in San Jose last week end.

PUPPET CIRCUS WINS
APPLAUSE AT SCHOOL

The Pattison Marionettes brought a pocket-sized circus to the Sunset school last week and gave students from bib-wearing kindergartners to dignified eighth-graders, and many grown-ups, a treat.

With a clown as master of ceremonies, the little stage in the main auditorium held spellbound the well-behaved youth of Carmel for over an hour of stunts. A juggler; an elephant that even switched its tail and wagged its ears; a tightrope walker; a trained horse; Harry Lauder in miniature person; a monkey that everybody wanted to take home; a pianist; a performing bear; a tap dancer; and last of all the devil himself in a red-hot finale.

It was done to boost the planting fund of the school to carry on the beautifying of school grounds, one of several entertainments planned for the purpose.

STANIFORD'S NOW HAS UNIQUE BEAUTY OFFER

Staniford's Drug Store is sponsoring Helena Rubinstein's cosmetics and urging women to use her treatment now, particularly, when summer makes care of the skin so important.

Women who demand the best in cosmetics will want to follow Helena Rubinstein's fundamental principles of skin care. She has designed an introductory package to acquaint these women with the "Helena Rubinstein First Steps to Beauty" treatment. This introductory package contains the renowned Pasteurized Face Cream (or Pasteurized Face Cream Special) and the unique Beauty Grains. Both for $1.00, in special sizes, prepared for normal and oily and for dry skins.

Since the phenomenal success of Helena Rubinstein's gift offer last year, Madam Rubinstein has been besieged with requests for a similar offer. Her Powder Rouge Package is the answer to this demand. In this gift package, Helena Rubinstein presents her famous dollar compact rouge to purchasers of her wonderful dollar powder.

These are just two of the many Helena Rubinstein items for sale at Staniford's Drug store, on Ocean Ave. and San Carlos—Adv.

CHURCH GROUP WORKS TO RETAIN ASILOMAR

The Missionary Society of the Community Church, under leadership of Mrs. Willis White, among others, is taking active steps to keep Asilomar from being sold and thus removing it as a center for group activity. The Y. W. C. A. has put it on the market because of stringency of the times, and the region stands to lose it as a conference grounds that brings people from the entire west to its gatherings.

NATIONAL HOSPITAL DAY IS MAY TWELFTH

Sponsored by the American Hospital Association, and observed all over the country, National Hospital day, May 12, is of particular interest to Carmel people at this time. Posters and folders are appearing on the streets announcing this day and asking all to observe it, and pause to learn something about their own hospitals, of the unceasing work of hospitals whose influence for protection is measured by the 700,000 men, women and children served daily in hospital beds, and by the growing number of nurses, doctors, and other health workers who are fitted for their work by the hospitals.

National hospital day is not a donation day but a day for the public to visit the hospitals in the vicinity.

CHURCH GUILD TO HOLD ANNUAL RUMMAGE SALE

The Parish Guild of All Saints Church is preparing for its rummage sale and garden show on May 24, 25, and 26th, to be held in one of the Monte Verde Street offices of the Sun Dial Court Apartments. Announcement is made in advance so that persons wishing to donate articles of any description for the sale, of flowers, seeds or plants for the garden show sale, may plan to do so in good season. By phoning Carmel 914-W, or 135 arrangements to call for these may be made.

HOSPITAL COMMITTEE MAKES ITS REPORT

At a special meeting of the executive committee of the Peninsula Hospital campaign fund on Monday $12,650.00 in subscriptions were reported. Joseph Schoeninger, Campaign chairman presided at the meeting. Representatives of the hospital medical board were present.

A committee consisting of Henry

F. Dickenson, F. P. Howard and Eugene Watson were appointed to meet with the building committee of the medical board and discuss plans for improvements to be made that will transform the present Clinic building into a community hospital. This committee was also empowered to study operating budgets.

The fund campaign will continue through this month. Mrs. Fern Hyde has reorganized the Carmel Division and Charles McCue is engaged in setting up a local committee in Pacific Grove. Rechecking of initial pledge prospects is being made and an effort to contact those not yet having pledged their support will continue through the month.

During the campaign several of our Carmel and Monterey artists have contributed paintings for the building fund. These paintings will shortly be hung in the Denny-Watrous gallery. Mrs. Paul Flinders will have charge of the exhibit.

CARMEL BOXERS TO ENTER S. F. BOUTS

The Pacific Association of the A. A. U., through Al Santell, Commissioner of Boxing, has forwarded a schedule to Jack Dalton, boxing manager of Carmel, telling of the coming bouts on the three consecutive Mondays of May 28th, June 4th and June 11th.

Championships will be decided in the usual eight classes, and prizes will consist of Gold State Championship belt buckles to winners and silver buckles to losers on the final night. Bouts in State Championships will consist of three rounds of three minutes each, and the novice class of three rounds of two minutes each.

All entries must be registered with the Pacific Assn., A. A. U. Amateur cards may be obtained by applying to Room 749 Phelan Bldg., San Francisco. Probably both Frank and Bob Dalton of Carmel, will be entered in these matches, in the 147 and 126 pound classes respectively.

NEW OFFICERS AT CARMEL WOMAN'S CLUB

At the annual meeting of the Carmel Woman's Club, the following officers were elected for the next year: President, Mrs. H. S. Nye, 1st Vice-President, Mrs. Russell Goodnow, 2nd Vice-President, Miss Agnes Ford; 3rd Vice-President, Miss Elizabeth Armstrong; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Ruth H. M. Lewis; Recording Secretary: Mrs. G. C. Richetson; Treasurer, Mrs. Everett Smith; Directors at large, Mrs. J. H. McCarthy, Mrs. C. J. Ryland.

After report from the officers and section chairmen had been heard, Mrs. Valvert Meade, in a gracious manner expressed the appreciation for the efficient and tactful service of the retiring president, Mrs. Karl Rendtorff, during the last two years, and presented her from the Board, with a pot of tuberos begonias and a wrought iron bracket to hold it.

At the social hour, Mrs. Elizabeth Elliott and Mrs. E. R. Tutt presided at the tea table.

Michel Penha in Cello Recital at Gallery May 12

People are still talking about the musical delight that Michel Penha afforded them with his art when he played for the Carmel Music Society last fall. Report comes from the Santa Cruz audience who attended Mr. Penha's recital for the Santa Cruz Monday Musical Club last week that his concert marked the high water mark of musical programs in Santa Cruz.

In response to popular demand, Mr. Penha will repeat his program of music for the cello given in Santa Cruz in the Denny-Watrous Gallery tomorrow evening. Ralph Linsley will be at the piano.

Carmel knows so well the talents and attainments of these two artists that it is superfluous to quote press reviews or previous achievements. Since coming to Carmel with his Quartet over two years ago, expecting to leave at the conclusion of his engagement, Mr. Penha has become more and more of a community figure, and the increase in musical appreciation since he has made Carmel his headquarters could not easily be measured. He is conductor of the Monterey Peninsula Orchestra and director and cellist of his own Quartet, which during the last year played chamber concerts in San Francisco, Palo Alto, San Jose, etc., including a Series of six at Mills College.

For Carmel to hold as one of its residents this artist of international reputation, whose ability as a cellist is recognized throughout the country, is proof of the "musical center" which is being built up here. Ralph Linsley as ensemble pianist is fast becoming a favorite throughout the state, and to hear such an ensemble as these two give is a rare treat.

What the Philadelphia Record wrote of one of Mr. Penha's last solo appearances there, before he left the Philadelphia Orchestra to come west, is typical of his playing everywhere. The comment reads, "Michel Penha, first cellist of the Orchestra, played the Concerto in D Minor by Lalo and gave a performance that was concluded by the biggest ovation given an artist this season. Mr. Penha's ability as a player was never more enjoyed, . . ."

Saturday's program follows:
Frescobaldi (1583-1644) Toccata
Bach (1658-1750) Adagio
Senallie (1687-1730) Allegro Spiritoso
Haydn (1732-1809) Theme and Variations
Saint-Saens, Sonate for Cello and Piano, Op. 32
Intermission

Schumann, Adagio and Allegro, Op. 70
Faure Elegie
Sgambati, Neopolitan Serenade
Boellmann, Variations Symphoniques, Op. 23.

PLAY READING AT PINE INN MONDAY

St. John Ervine's delightful comedy "Anthony and Anna," will be read by an experienced cast at Pine Inn Monday at eight p. m. No admission is charged the public, but a silver offering limited to ten cents per person is taken up to partially defray the cost of books purchased for the cast.

The players are well known on the peninsula. All of them have appeared on the local stage or taken part in previous play readings. For a month they have been rehearsing for Monday's performance, and those who have attended rehearsals are most enthusiastic. A smooth and brilliant performance is promised.

The cast includes: Anna Marie Baer, George McMenamin, Hal Garrott, Henry Hasty, Arthur Storey, Eugene Watson, Tom Thienes, Nan McCormick and Eloise Carwyle. Miss Carwyle, who is directing the performance as well as playing a lead, has done an excellent job. The standard of the popular Pine Inn readings will be raised by this show.

COMMUNITY PLAYERS TO DO "DANGEROUS CORNER"

The Community Players will present J. B. Priestly's sophisticated drama "Dangerous Corner," at the Denny-Watrous gallery on May 30th, 31st, June 1st and 2nd, under direction of the noted Gordon Davis.

This play is particularly adapted to the gallery showhouse because its time-unity makes for use of one set and no changes of costume. "Dangerous Corner," by the way, is one of the few modern plays that has been given more than passing comment by the acidulated critic Mencken.

In the cast will be many favorites of the peninsula audiences, and will include Paula Dougherty, Ruth Thompson, Mary Henderson, Olga Fish, Byington Ford, Bud Mills and Lloyd Weer. Gordon Davis is well known in Carmel through having been in many plays, several written by himself, in past seasons here. In conjunction with play production, he is giving a director's course, and persons interested in joining it should get in touch with him at Carmel 1133, or communicate with Katharine Cook at Carmel 722.

KUSTER PLAYERS IN DRAMA FINALS

This week, Thursday night to be exact, Edward G. Kuster's Golden Bough Players production of "Mother of Gregory" enters the finals of the First Annual Northern California Drama Tournament. Over forty groups of players were represented in the tournament at the beginning and now the list has narrowed down to 11 in the finals.

The plays are being presented at the Alcazar theatre, in San Francisco.

Maurice Browne's "The Mother of Gregory," is the play produced by the Golden Bough Players, under direction of Edward Kuster. Prominent in the cast are George Wapple of Hollister; Bettie Michalescu, of San Francisco, and Evert Sholund, of Monterey.

Mrs. C. H. Cooper of Oakland spent the weekend in the Pauline Pierson Cottage.

SUMMER PLAYS

The Community Playhouse has arranged for early production of the following recent New York successes: Behrman's "Biography," Noel Coward's "Design For Living," Lenormand's "Time Is A Dream" and Sidney Howard's "Alien Corn". O'Neill's "Ah, Wilderness" and Leslie Howard's "Murray Hill," both still in commercial production, have also been applied for, to be produced later.

The Playhouse Association, succeeding Carmel Community Playhouse, announces for summer dates the weekends of July 4, July 26 and August 9.

UNUSUAL CONCERT FOR BAY CITY PLAYHOUSE

One of the most unusual concerts of the year will be given May 28 in the San Francisco Playhouse. The New Music Society of California will present the Betty Horst Concert Dancers on that date, in a program that will include Edgar Varese's strange new composition for percussion instruments, "Ionisation."

This newest of the New Music is an ensemble for thirteen players and forty-one pieces, of which the piano is almost the only one that is immediately recognizable to the untrained listener. Sirens, triangles, Chinese blocks, rattles, snare drums, cymbals, lion-ears, gongs, tom-toms, bells, guiros, are among the instruments used.

As can easily be imagined, the music created by such an ensemble is not of any ordinary style. But that it is stimulating can be judged by its reception in the east, where it has been performed twice by the Pan-American Association of Composers.

Betty Horst has created a dance number for her concert group to perform in the San Francisco presentation of "Ionisation". In addition to this number the dancers, augmented by Ruth Austin of Carmel, a former associate of Miss Horst, will also appear in three dance movements for percussion ensemble by William Russell, "Allegro Barbaro" by Bela Bartok, and the andante from a string quartet by Ruth Crawford.

Members of the New Music Society, under direction of Henry Cowell, will comprise the orchestra, both in the percussion numbers and in the others. In addition to the dances, the program will include numbers for orchestra alone.

cent view of the bay with its islands, and the city of San Francisco in the distant background married by aching muscles.

"Who," I asked, "will ever come to a play up here in the clouds? Who would ever want to be in the cast, and come to such a place for rehearsals? This," I said, "is the craziest, wildest, most impossible idea that ever wormed into a wooden head! Forget it, John. And I'm going down by train."

LD TIMERS in Carmel know that you can expect anything hereabouts, but it might surprise newcomers to hear that among the other features of the village we have Dora Mired, who is among the top-notch steeplechasers of the state, as witnessed by the recent victories over all comers at Pasatiempo. We mean Lynn Hodges' seven year-old brown mare, and if you want shining proof just take a look at the three-foot cup in one of the downtown store windows, the cup won at the steeplechase in Santa Cruz against such competition as Marion Hollins' Dell Fennell.

Lynn Hodges, a native of Beaver City, Utah, has been in Carmel thirteen years, but only in the past few years has he put his horse into race meets. Training his mounts in the corral down by the stables, he has conditioned them to the point where they can, in Dora Mired's case, under the expert guidance of rider Joe Burrell, clean up on the Carbonero Steeplechase in the time of three minutes and thirty-two seconds. This means over a course two and a half miles long, with eleven jumps that include up and down hill intervals, which is not bad when you consider that at Tanforan good time in a flat race for that distance is three minutes and twenty-nine seconds.

Some of this speed comes from the manner in which Dora Mired has been trained to take the obstacles in stride, like a human hurdler, rather than going up in the air and coming down like a high-jumper with nowhere to go afterward. Whether or not Hodges' highschool experience in the twenty hurdles had something to do with this is another point, but suffice to say that his steeplechaser goes places in close to record time.

And here's an interesting thing about the manner in which she competes. She sizes up every jump, her ears showing an alertness that continues even after the finish line is passed. She knows that she has a job to do, and she is going to keep right on expecting jumps until she's unsaddled and through for the day.

In the seasons to come around the circuit of Del Monte, Santa Barbara, Menlo and Pasatiempo, you are going to hear about Dora Mired, and while we won't suggest placing a little money on her, at least we can advise watching this fifteen-two hand racer that was raised by Marshband and prepared by Hodges for a career that to her is just a day's outing now and then, and a surprising increase in carrots and sugar when it's over.

ELEN WARE, stage and screen actress who now calls Carmel her home, has been on the go day and by night between here and Hollywood because of recent picture work.

Considerable retaking has been necessary on the Joan Crawford drama "Sadie McKee," being filmed at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios, in which Miss Ware plays the part of the mother. No sooner does she come up here thinking that a certain sequence is finished than she is telegraphed for and must return for some variation of the shots, causing her to remark, "I hear that Carmel is a nice place, and sometime I'm going to live here—maybe." Miss Ware made five trips south on the one picture. Her busand, Frederick Burt, has just returned from doing a Chinese character part in Harold Lloyd's new picture "Cat's Paw." He wore special false teeth and wig makeup and that took much time every morning to apply, and reports that the old daylight-to-dark idea of work has nothing on the Hollywood schedule of work-all-day and work-all-night.

Jack Phelan of Long Beach is making his vacation headquarters in Carmel and making short trips to surrounding points of interest. He motored to Tassajara Hot Springs last week end.

People Talked About

will never forget the day in April, 1914, when I went with John Catlin to look over the site he had discovered for a theatre on the hillside, and give him my opinion of its desirability. As our Forest Theater was then four years old, and I had been identified with it more or less, he supposed I'd have an opinion. I did—and a hard one!

It was a hot spring afternoon, with plenty of sunshine. Although a little railway runs up the side of Mt. Tamalpais, the crookedest railroad in the world, Catlin decided for us that we should hike. "Just take an easy climb of it," he said, "making the inn at West Point by dinner-time. It'll do us both good."

We crossed the bay by ferry, and began the skyward walk at Sau-salito. Some of the Alps, it is said, and the Andes in Peru are steeper than Mount Tamalpais, but I never had any ambition their way. Catlin claimed that he was taking an easy and considerate pace, but he seemed heartless to me. I perspired freely and swore desperately. Every step became torture. It was a miserable afternoon.

The night spent on a rough bunk at West Point didn't help much, and I limped over the trail to the chosen site after bolstering my strength with coffee. Nothing looked good to me, even the magnifi-

PURPOSE OF THIS PAGE IS HERE DEFINED

It is our thought, in presenting this page that those people running for public office should have an opportunity to present their ideas and ideals to the people, not in the hasty last minute notices before election, but over a period of time sufficient for the voter to digest the information.

This page is being presented each week from now until the primaries in August for that purpose. We want to make this page truly interesting to the people, and it will in no way have anything to do with the editorial policies of the paper, or the opinions of the publishers regarding candidates.

There are herewith articles concerning candidates for the office of district attorney, and it should be good reading. Each week we shall give the other candidates an opportunity to express themselves.

GEO. D. POLLOCK IS OUT FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY

Pollock was born in Mineral, Kansas, April 30, 1898, and after spending two years in that state, spent considerable of his boyhood between the city of St. Louis, Missouri, and the Pollock ranch in the Ozark mountains. He received much of his training in the local schools of Missouri.

Prior to the World War he was attending school in Pennsylvania and left his college career to enter the U. S. Navy where he served until September, 1919, and at that time made his first acquaintance with the State of California, being discharged at San Pedro.

Pollock has since adopted California as his home, and has applied himself to the study of banking, economic and legal problems. He was admitted to practice law in 1928, both in our state courts and in the federal district courts.

Pollock came to Salinas in 1929 as assistant trust officer in the Monterey County Trust & Savings Bank, from which position he resigned in 1930 and opened a law office. He is a member of the Salinas Kiwanis Club, secretary of Salinas Lodge No. 1165, Loyal Order of Moose, member of Salinas Post No. 31, American Legion, member of the Prunedale Grange, Clerk of the Prunedale School Board, and sits on the executive board of the Monterey County Pomona Grange, and has been for a number of years an active member in all of these organizations.

NOLAND ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY TODAY

Perry Newberry, Editor,
Carmel Pine Cone,
Carmel, California,
Dear Sir:

Having definitely decided to offer myself as a candidate for District Attorney of Monterey County at the coming election, I desire at this time to make a statement in connection with my candidacy.

On February 10th, 1930, District Attorney Albert Warth appointed me his deputy. I served in that capacity until January 25th, 1933, when, upon the resignation of Russell Scott, then District Attorney, and the Board of Supervisors of Monterey County, having confidence in my honesty, integrity and ability to fill that office, saw fit under their oaths to appoint me District Attorney for this county.

The office of District Attorney is created by the legislative branch of the state government. Its duties are clearly defined by law. After appointment or election, the District Attorney takes an oath of office to support the constitution and laws of the State of California and to discharge faithfully the duties of his office.

I entered this office free from alliances or entanglements, with absolutely no enemies to punish nor friends to reward. I have had only one object in mind which has been to carry out my duties under the laws of the state, and to enforce to the best of my ability, such laws. I stand in the same position today. So long as I am privileged to be District Attorney of this county, the people thereof will be my only master. I am responsible, as District Attorney, to the people of this county, and not to any individual, group, organization, or class. I have accepted that responsibility—it has not been delegated to any person. I will stand upon my record which is an open book for the inspection of any interested citizen or taxpayer.

Very sincerely yours,
HARRY L. NOLAND.

LOCAL MAN OUT FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY

Anthony Brazil, Pacific Grove attorney, and prominently connected with local business and social life, today announced that he is definitely in the race for District Attorney of Monterey County.

Brazil has been frequently urged by many of his friends and associates to run for the office, but until today he had not definitely decided to run. Tremendous evidence of support throughout the Monterey Peninsula, as well as in other parts of the county gave Brazil the needed encouragement to run.

A resident of Monterey County for most of his life, and a graduate of local schools and of Stanford University, Brazil has for the past several years made an exceptional name for himself as a Peninsula lawyer. He is member of the Exchange Club and has been identified in many kinds of civic activities in his home town.

GILES WILL SEEK TREASURER'S POST

Russell Giles, Pacific Grove business man announces today his candidacy for the office of county treasurer.

Giles has been a resident of Pacific Grove for the past 15 years. He received his elementary and high school education at Hollister, and during his career he has had 4 years experience with the Southern Pacific, and 4 years with the Standard Oil Company in the accounting departments.

He entered business in Pacific Grove 13 years ago, and has since been prominently identified with local business affairs. He has recently been secretary for several fraternal and civic organizations and is Secretary-treasurer of the Exchange Club. He recently celebrated his 37th birthday.

FITZPATRICK FAREWELL PARTY SATURDAY NIGHT

One of the largest crowds in many months will gather next Saturday night in the Bali Room of Hotel Del Monte to bid farewell to Ed Fitzpatrick and his orchestra who will leave the peninsula after a two years stay.

Fitzpatrick who has become tremendously popular throughout Monterey county leaves at once for the south where he will fill another engagement. Three bands, two of which are nationally known are being considered as Fitzpatrick's successors at Del Monte.

The farewell party on Saturday night will be in the form of a dinner dance. The Bali room will be gaily decorated and favors will be distributed to the dancers.

Because of Fitzpatrick's popularity throughout the county, a throng of his friends are planning to join in the farewell festivities. Coming to Del Monte virtually unknown two years ago, Fitzpatrick's band has won a high recognition in music circles.

NEW BLUE EAGLE*SHOWN AT EWIG'S

The first of the new code Blue Eagles of the NRA to be seen in Carmel, is now on display at Ewig's grocery. The new Blue Eagle emblem is distinguished by registration number of owner, by patent number and by it's being marked "property of U. S. government, not for sale."

This labeling will protect members against imitations and will permit seizure of Blue Eagles at any time from violators of the code, without legal difficulties over ownership.

HOLC REPORTS*SHOW 25 LOANS

The Home Owners Loan Corporation has made 25 loans amounting to $90,121.34 during the period of its operations in this county, according to John E. Wallace, County recorder.

Included in these figures are five loans for $16,647.49, made during the past week.

L.K. FIRESTONE
ANNOUNCES
NEW TIRE

Justly proud of the new Firestone High Speed Tire for 1934 is L. K. Firestone, salesmanger of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company of California.

In a statement to Firestone Dealers and the Motoring Public, Leonard Firestone today announced the new Firestone Tire for 1934 and told of the greatest improvements ever made in balloon type tires.

The young executive brimming with enthusiasm and confidence told how Firestone engineers, always a step ahead of the industry had developed the first successful balloon tire in 1923, and have initiated every worthwhile development and improvement in tires since then.

"It is only natural after considering that Firestone brought out the first all-rubber non-skid tire and the above facts that we should lead in the further development of tire construction to meet the demands of the high-powered, high speed cars of today. Firestone engineers and chemists brought out startling developments to assure motorists of safer, longer and more economical tire performance. The result is a new 1934 Firestone High Speed Tire with a wider, flatter tread, greater thickness, deeper non-skid, more and tougher rubber and non-skid contact with the road."

"These improvements result in more than 50% added non-skid mileage in these new tires," Mr. Firestone declared. "This added safety and protection against blowouts, and greater economy than ever before is made possible by the Firestone patented and exclusive process of Gum-Dipping, whereby the millions of cotton fibres inside the high stretch cords are soaked and coated with pure live rubber which provides greater strength and greater adhesion between the tread and body of the tires."

For 14 consecutive years, leading race drivers have driven to victory on Firestone Tires built with Gum-Dipped High Stretch Cords. The tires are given the severest test known each May 30th when they are driven at terrific speeds over the hot bricks in the 500 mile Indianapolis Speed Classic. They are also road tested on the large fleet of Firestone Test Cars, day and night, every day of the year, over all kinds of roads and highways. The new Firestone Tire is recognized by car owners as the

LEADERSHIP

"The Ultimate Test of Leadership is Performance"

FIRESTONE has maintained its leadership in tire development by producing a new tire for 1934 with a wider tread, flatter contour, deeper non-skid, greater thickness, and more and tougher rubber, which gives greater non-skid safety, more traction, greater blowout protection, and more than 50% longer non-skid mileage.

These achievements are made practical by the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping, providing greater adhesion between the plies of the high stretch cords and between the Gum-Dipped body of the tire and the tough, massive non-skid tread. It also provides greater strength, longer flexing life, and greater protection against blowouts.

Gum-Dipping made it possible for Firestone to design, develop and put on the market the first successful balloon tire in 1923. This tire was the pattern used by all others and completely revolutionized the tire industry and set new standards for the automobile industry.

Firestone also developed the first all-rubber non-skid tire, and has always been first to give motorists the benefits of new discoveries in non-skid design, providing more traction and greater non-skid safety.

For fourteen years leading race drivers have driven to victory on Firestone tires, built with Gum-Dipped high stretch cords. They have trusted their lives to Firestone Leadership—as they know that the patented Firestone construction features provide them with greater safety—longer mileage—and greater blowout protection.

THE ONE INTERNATIONAL DAY

Mother's Day is next Sunday. Churches have planned special services, societies have circularized their members to remind them of their duties toward hallowing mothers' memories with a letter or a wire for the occasion, or to refresh childhood impressions of home. The postal department has even issued a new Mother's Day stamp bearing a reproduction of Whistler's portrait of his mother.

But the finest place in which the day will be observed will be in the heart of the family where a mother's work day in and day out needs no special reminder to bring uppermost in our thoughts this leading character in the drama of daily life.

The other day a district attorney and a minister, representing the two ends of the crime problem, came to agreement on the fact that persons coming from substantial family backgrounds rarely lost their stability. Need the moral of a mother's influence in such connection be pointed out more strongly.

Throughout history great men have been reared in homes where the mother influence has molded character early in life and laid the foundation for future eminence with sound principals.

Carmel has been particularly fortunate in the civic consciousness shown by mothers in many activities such as the Parent-Teachers Association, and in the generous way in which they have gone beyond mere required duty into the realm of intelligent politics, of welfare and of education generally, all of which has shown the high caliber of Carmel matrons.

"PUT OUT THAT FIRE!"

The cost to Carmel of being built in a forest is eternal vigilance against a general conflagration, especially during this year where great dryness is already evident. One has only to remember Berkeley some eleven years ago and how, by unhappy combination of a hillside fire caused by windblown high-power wires and tinder dryness, sixty entire blocks were burned over. Sixty blocks of fine homes, supposedly protected by ample fire-fighting organization.

Combining their efforts locally, Chief Bob Leidig is working inside the city limits to remove such fire hazards as rubbish in yards, heavy growth of grass in vacant lots and collection of inflammables in commercial areas, while State Ranger Frank A. Moore is working to impress campers and tourists of the need for following the simple but vital rules of extinguishing campfires and cigarettes, and of reporting blazes as soon as discovered.

Carmel may rest assured that its volunteer fire department is ready night and day to put its modern and well-manned equipment in action, but it should also be remembered that the best way to treat a fire is to put it out before it starts something—especially in a forest town.

NO MOON

Full of habitual music,
 Intimate, slow,
 And clean of wonder—
 May night come so:

Shrouding in faded
 Old silk skies,
 The thoughts I would not Vitalize;

Bringing no wind,
 No moon, no lover,
 But deep air as friendly
 As trodden clover.

—Margaret Frazer
 in "College Verse"

WINTER FIELD

A noise there is that well might be
 A chipmunk under cover,
 Or wind perhaps with finger touch
 Upon the stiffened clover.

There is no color anywhere
 Except where granite slab
 Of sky, weights down the brittle boughs
 Of leafless trees, and drab.

—Claire Aven Thomson

A PLEA FOR TRYING AGAIN

The plain, accustomed thoughts of every day
 Echo like strange music on our ears
 When they are spoken in a foreign tongue:
 The simple scheme of laughter and of tears
 Becomes a living wonder that has sprung,
 Full-garmented in language, from man's need
 To voice his questionings, to allay his fears,
 To speak love unto love,
 To make long hopes with other hopes that breed
 White-pinioned dreams that lift and soar above
 The dusty lanes of weariness and greed.
 When alien phrases tell of death and birth,
 We marvel that man lives and walks the earth.

How proud a victory might we then achieve
 For beauty and for wonder
 Could we contrive to wash from memory
 All ordered sentences that hold asunder
 This man and that, this nation and that nation. . .
 Could we contrive—forgetting—to set free
 Our minds from the harsh tyranny of speech
 That moves among us guised as final truth . . .
 Could we but yield ourselves to the surprise
 Of infancy that gropes its way to youth,
 Of youth that walks to manhood with new eyes. . .
 Could we but search for fresh words, yet untried,
 To match a universe that dares to fashion
 Cool silences and leading flames of passion,
 Reaches of starlight, song, and mortal pride.

The National Automobile Assn., is taking an active part in developing fire-safety consciousness among tourists, saying "A cigarette carelessly tossed from an automobile anywhere along the road may burn up a million dollars' worth of countryside and take dwellings with it; it may blacken a million acres of pasture and kill horses and cattle; may sweep through a watershed, destroy a forest and destroy untold value in natural resources.

"Let no one imagine that summer fire precautions apply only to the forests. Hazards are as great along the highways through the San Joaquin and other state valleys as they are in the mountain glades and brush covered hillsides.

"The most rigid precautions are none too much to take everywhere in the country. Men there know the danger and take care. The man from the city must be made to realize that he must not in the country toss away his match, cigar or cigarette as he does on cement sidewalks and streets."

ANOTHER HOPEFUL SIGN

One bright spot in the financial gloom is the fact that a substantial portion of back taxes on Carmel property has been received by Tax Collector August Englund, both for the 1933 delinquencies and those of several years previous.

People are not going to throw away their Carmel holdings if they can possibly raise the money to pay accumulated obligations against them, and out of the delinquency figure of $9,781.18 due to Dec. 31, 1933, total payment of $6,481.94 has been recorded. This includes real estate, special street and sewer assessments, but not unsecured personal taxes.

It is hoped that next year's delinquent list will not read like a telephone book, as was remarked about the past one, and already there is substantial indication that this welcome change will become a fact.

COUNTY POLITICS

The Pine Cone today offers its readers the first political announcements for the August primaries.

In doing so, the Pine Cone realizes that it is too early for most of us to reach a decision on the quality of timber available for re-building Monterey County's political house, or even to know if the house needs re-building at all.

The Pine Cone feels, however, that in many elections, so much is crowded into the voter's mind at the eleventh hour, that it is in most cases difficult to arrive at a well considered decision before going to the poles.

So today begins our series of political messages from the candidates which will permit early and thoughtful weighing of arguments by our readers and so give them knowledge of the candidates, thus making for intelligent voting at the election August 28th.

PEOPLE TALKED ABOUT

STANLEY WOOD, well known hereabouts for his painting, has a feature article in the May issue of that dollar magazine, "Fortune," entitled "Boulder Dam, A Portfolio of Watercolors by Stanley Wood."

Of these eleven pictures, strikingly modern but so thoroughly understandable that they show full grasp of the man-machine-mass problems, the magazine says.

"Throughout these paintings Mr. Wood has sued, as a constant motif, the deliberate aerial dance of men and buckets, steel and timbers, dizzily strung above the chasm. Wood is one of the many able American artists who are not widely known, whose work is highly thought of by those who know it; who are extremely faithful to their work.

"These pictures make an exciting and quietly moving record of America busy at her best. He is one of 2,523 artist who since November has had a couple of month's work at craftsmen's wages—$25.50 to $42.50 a week—in the embellishment of public buildings and public works and parks the country over. It is America's (and perhaps the world's) first recognition of the artist as a useful member of society. Mr. Wood's work shows what for less than a plumber's wage, an artist can do for a people that respect and support him."

The colors are those of raw rocks and man-made rock-work in the constant heat of the desert, with life hanging by a cable, and labor going on day and night under army-like routine and discipline. Those of us who know Stan Wood expect fine work, but we are surprised at the fidelity, the comprehension and accurate mechanical delineation, as well as the very human drawing of the eleven pictures of the world's greatest building of a dam—a project covering several states in its application.

Wood has been a resident of Carmel for years, and has frequently exhibited in prominent galleries up and down the coast, beside doing illustrative wood-blocks for the Pine Cone.

EN ROUTE from Hollywood to New York, Philip Nesbitt, painter and cartoonist, stopped off in Carmel Wednesday to leave pictures for a May 14 exhibit at Denny-Watrous. Nesbitt, who's humor and creative ability is exceeded only by his genius for making new contacts in the world of commercial art, spent the winter in La Quinta in the desert from where he sent dozens of funny drawings to Rob Wagner's Script. He spent the spring in Hollywood where he made drawings for animated cartoons at the Walt Disney Studio. He chooses to spend the summer in the heat of New York City where he plans to be connected with Esquire and other magazines of that class. If past success is an indication, your next expensive copy of Esquire will contain several Phil Nesbitt drawings, perhaps an orchid rhinoceros.

GENE BAKER comes by her talents and industry honestly, for her father, Joe Baker was for years editor of one of the Oakland dailies, I think the Tribune. He and Gene—she a young girl—used to be frequently at Xavier Martinez' Piedmont studio in the days when the hospitable home was one of my ports of call. I remember them vividly on one Christmas morning quite a number of years back.

It had dawned in gloom. Santa Claus didn't seem to have remembered that the Martinezes, the Herman Whitakers, or the P. Newberies existed. The three families, except for raw red beans, had barren cupboards and empty pockets. A pot simmered on the kitchen stove crowded with raw red beans. That would be our Christmas dinner.

When up the hill came Joe Baker and Gene, lugging between them a great basket from which protruded neck, head and legs of an 18-pound turkey. Underneath were all the fixings, including desserts and drinks. Not a thing had been overlooked.

Some events are never forgotten. That Christmas day will ever remain alive for me. And whatever nice things the Call-Bulletin says about Mrs. Francis McComas can't begin to stack up with what we survivors of that feast know to be true.

THE CALL-BULLETIN of San Francisco prints a tribute to Mrs. Francis McComas that is well worth reading. Under the heading, "Charming Busy People," it says:

"When one cast an eye over dinner parties at Pebble Beach and Burlingame and sees Mrs. Francis McComas at many of them, always exquisitely groomed, happy and scintillating, one's thought is, 'Aha, here is a pretty young matron who is a society favorite and loves parties.'"

"Then, when one casts an equally appraising eye over the murals in the Pebble Beach and Burlingame homes, hotels and clubs, and notes that they are done by Mrs. McComas—not MR., mind you, one's thought is, 'Aha here is a pretty young matron who is a very able painter and loves work.'"

"Which thought is near to the truth, only Gene Baker McComas knows and possibly her famous husband, Francis, whose paintings have carried the beauty of the Monterey peninsula all over the world.

"Perhaps Gene has snatched a bit of Relativity from Einstein and has learned that Time is but the slave of mortals.

"Certain it is she encompasses much in a very short time . . . and never appears harassed or hurried. They have a delightfully hospitable home at Pebble Beach, and yet, they find time to woo the Graphic Muse, each in his separate star—for the good of things as they are . . ."

FRED G. ANDREWS—"Uncle Fred" of the Youthland Press and "You and We," "a periodical of friendly handclaps"—writes us from Riderwood, Maryland, "I want to congratulate you on The Pine Cone. It is the best conducted weekly newspaper I ever read, bar none.

"I used to run a small town weekly in Salina, Kansas, and I used to have to use the shears pretty freely to keep it filled. I read the Pine Cone every week from kiver to kiver, not one line have I found copied from another paper. Every word, ad and all, are strictly for and of interest to Carmel."

Blanche Bates, now Mrs. George Creel of San Francisco, starred in the Belasco production of "The Girl of the Golden West," which first opened in Pittsburg, on the night of October 3, 1905, and in New York on November 14, 1905, and ran for three consecutive years.

Robert Hilliard played the part of Dick Johnson, the Road Agent, and Frank Keenan played the Sheriff, Rance.

Mrs. George S. Coblenz has returned to her home on San Antonio after spending three weeks in Santa Barbara.

Virginia Dutcher, Monterey high school art teacher who lives in Carmel, has as her house guest this week Marty Farnsworth, teacher of Pasadena.

THE VILLAGE NEWS-REEL

Ross Burton who has been re-dining at the Inn will pay no en-newing childhood acquaintances in Carmel for the past few months left the seclusion of the little Jimmy Hopper house on Eighth and Junipero recently to take up a more active life in San Francisco. He is the son of Dr. Alfred E. Burton of Boston who was one of the most important men in Carmel community life in the early days. Ross's mother, Mrs. Carl Cherry has lived here many years, is the author of a book of poems, "Point Lobos" under the pen name, Jeanne D'Orge.

Mildred "Tiny" Pearson is here with her mother, Mrs. D. E. Nixon and plans to stay for a month while she recovers from a broken wrist which she suffered when she fell while roller-skating in Santa Barbara.

Word has come up from the southland that Howard Brooks is director and coach for dramatics and play production evening classes for adults at the Beverly Hills High School. Brooks, who is the brother of Mrs. Beth Sullivan, is best known here for his characterization of the missionary in "Rain" which was produced at the Community Theatre two years ago. Brooks has been active in little theatre groups in the south since he left here a year ago.

The exhibit of oil paintings, drawings and wood engravings by Abbie Lou Bosworth at Denny-Watrous Gallery will be kept until May 14 when it will be replaced by the drawings and watercolors of Philip Nesbitt.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Regan and Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Murray motored to Bakersfield last week end and were the house guests of Mrs. Murray's sister.

A golf tournament will take place over the Robles del Rio course next Saturday and Sunday. On Saturday night a bridge party will be held at the Inn. There will be prizes for winners. Participants Johan Hagemeyer, local portrait photographer, has gone south this week to make several sittings. He will stay in Glendale where years ago he did his first photographic work.

Mr. and Mrs. John McGee and family have closed their Pebble Beach home where for the past few months they have entertained extensively, among other people, Mrs. Andrew Mellon. They have gone to take up residence in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Holt, who returned recently from a trip to the Orient, spent last week in their house at Pebble Beach, leaving the first of the week for Piedmont.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Scott Clingan occupied their house at Pebble Beach for several days, leaving Sunday.

More news has reached here through the city papers of the success of Patricia Monteagle in the play, "She Loves Me Not."

Miss Bertha E. Shapleigh who spent the winter in Marysville has returned to her home in Eighty Acres.

The now world-known "Drunkard" is scheduled to play at the Palace Hotel from May 7th to May 15th. Among the Carmelites in the cast are Connie Schuman, Peggy Converse, Connie Clamptt and Norman MacNeill. For the past few weeks the Drunkard has been receiving large writeups from the San Francisco papers.

Col. C. G. Lawrence is at his home in Carmel Woods improved in health after spending several weeks at the Letterman hospital in San Francisco.

Mrs. Horace Heidt and daughter of San Francisco will remain in Hideaway cottage on The Point until the end of next week. They are here for a two week's vacation.

Point Lobos was the scene of a beach supper on Monday. Joyce Crempion, Muriel Kerr, Margaret Ryan, Vera Hunter, Lois Randall, Disbrow Johnson, Dewey Clough, S. Marsden, Ronald Johnson and F. Robert Smith were among those in the party.

A press release from Mills College gives the information that Marion Vidoroni of Carmel has been elected editor of the Mills College Weekly and chairman of her class.

T. H. Fox and a party of friends of San Francisco spent last week end in the Terry Cottage on Casanova Street.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Boyd have taken a cottage on Monte Verde for a month.

A small fire was reported at the Del Monte Lodge last week. Sparks from the fire caught on a whisk broom but prompt action by a man in the room at the time saved the Lodge from any damage.

Floyd A. Pantoons and family were visitors here last week-end.

Mrs. A. E. Jensen and Mrs. Wm. Pottharst, Jr., spent Wednesday, visiting with Mrs. C. R. Birch at her home on 3rd Street.

Mrs. A. J. O'Connor of Hollywood spent the past several days in Carmel stopping at Hotel La Ribera. Mr. O'Connor is the Art Director for De Mille of Hollywood.

The Misses Bess, Florence and Alice Cotterill, musicians, known at Hotel Maryland in Pasadena as the Cotterill Sisters, were here last week vacationing in a house on The Point, accompanied by their mother. They have just finished a five months contract as entertaining musicians at the Maryland Hotel. Bess Cotterill said that Carmel has the atmosphere and quaintness of Bermuda, where they have spent several winters.

Col. and Mrs. R. R. Wallace and their daughter arrived here from New York recently and have taken up residence in their Pebble Beach home.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Bruckner of Fresno who have been frequent visitors to Carmel spent the week end at La Ribera visiting Mrs. Browning of Carmel.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bartlett with a group of friends are occupying the Moore house on San Antonio. Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett who live in Kansas City spend every spring in Carmel.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Weeks have returned to Oakland after spending several days of their honeymoon at La Ribera.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

In all Christian Science churches, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., a Lesson-

Sermon will be read Sunday, May 13, on the subject "Adam and the Fallen Man" having dominion over all the earth" (p. 521).

The Golden Text will be: "As in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive" (I Cor. 15: 22). Bible selections will include the following passage from Psalms 39: 6, 7, "Surely every man walketh in a vain shew: surely they are disquieted in vain: he heapeth up riches, and knoweth not who shall gather them. And now, Lord, what wait I for? my hope is in thee."

A passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included which reads as follows: "Which institutes Life,—matter or Mind? Does Life begin with Mind or with matter? Is Life sustained by matter or by Spirit? Certainly not by both, since flesh wars against Spirit and the corporeal senses can take no cognizance of Spirit. The mythologic theory of material life at no point resembles the scientifically Christian record of man as created by Mind in the

by Lee Van Atta

The Marionette Show last Friday morning netted quite a large fund. 40% was to go the Student Body Planting Fund while 60% went to Miss Pattison who presented the marionettes. After the show, a number of parents and children went backstage to see how the marionettes were run.

The Eighth Grade English Class have built a stage in their room very suitable for reading and giving original plays. The sixth, seventh and eighth grade will use this stage.

With the end of Public Schools Week, rooms are now being prepared for the final three weeks of school. A large number of parents were listed on the class registers.

MONTEREY HI NOTES

by Bob Scripture

On Saturday, May 12, two of Monterey's track team members will go to Berkeley to take part in the C. I. F. track and field meet which will be held there.

They are the two Miyamoto brothers, "Ky" and "Archie." "Ky" will enter the high jump and broad jump, while "Archie" will compete in the football throw.

Last week at the track meet held in Hollister, "Ky" tied the C. C. A. L. high jump record of six feet.

At the meeting of the high school board last Saturday, the resignations of Mrs. E. King Hilgers and Mrs. F. E. Pfeiffer from the faculty were accepted. The board gave a vote of thanks to them for their fine and helpful services during the time they had taught at the school.

Mrs. Hilgers is an instructor in sewing, while Mrs. Pfeiffer teaches music and music appreciation.

May 29 is the date set for the Junior Prom, which will be given at Hotel Del Monte.

"Minick," the choice of the seniors for their play, will be presented on Friday night, May 25. The cast is entirely made up of seniors.

Eight Carmel students were guests of the Rotary Club last Thursday, at a luncheon at Hotel Del Monte, given in honor of Youths' Day, at which Judge Jorgenson of Salinas spoke.

They were Sue Brownell, Jean Leidig, Jean Stewart, Virginia Wheeler, Ellen Skadan, Joe Shoeninger, Bob Horton and Bob Scripture.

OFFICERS ELECTED FOR SCOUT TRUSTEES

O. W. Bardarson who was elected to do the publicity for the local Boy Scout Group for the coming year began his work by giving the papers a list of other officers elected. Herman Crossman, chairman; Hurd Comstock, treasurer Everett Smith, Camping; Melvin C. Dorsett, personal; Louis Levinson, finance; Everett Smith is replacing Herman Crossman in the work of supervising camping, health and safety and Sea Scouts.

George Young, scout executive of Salinas was present at the meeting as were local scout masters John Neikirk and Henry Bauernschmidt and commander M. J. Peterson, newly appointed skipper of Carmel Sea Scouts who reported that the Carmel boys were enrolling with interest in the chance to attain the status of ordinary seamen through the Sea Scout work.

RECREATION PLAN FOR CARMEL THIS SUMMER

Carmel is advised that if it wants a portion of federal funds for recreational activity this summer it must join with Monterey and Pacific Grove in a group effort, and must also furnish certain funds toward materials and personnel.

As a first step in consideration of this, the city council was asked to approve a recreational commission to meet with other peninsula groups, and the names chosen were Miss Ruth Huntington, Mrs. Vera Peck Millis, John Neikirk, chairman, Rev. Melvin Dorsett and Hurd Comstock. There will be another council meeting to consider appropriations totaling a minimum of $225 as suggested by Dorsett for playground supervision and arts and crafts materials to carry out a comprehensive program of summer activity.

The federal plan requires that certain locally raised funds go toward salaries of recreational directors who will be chosen from welfare rolls of unemployed workers residing in Carmel, thus accomplishing several ends at one move.

LARGE SUM OF BACK TAXES PAID TO CITY

Collection of Carmel city taxes since January 1st, has been encouraging from the viewpoint of back payments, both on the 1933 and previous unpaid bills. Deputy city tax collector Thos. J. Hefling has compiled figures showing the results as of April 30th, and these include real estate taxes and special street and sewer assessments gathered since December 31st, 1933.

1933 Taxes Delinquent December 31, 1933 .....$9,781.18
1933 Taxes Collected since Dec. 31, 1933 .....4,057.56

1933 Taxes Uncollected April 30, 1934 .....5,723.62

Taxes due prior to December 31, 1933, have been paid this year to date to the amount of $2,361.38, thus wiping out a good portion of delinquent taxes dating back to 1928, and making a total revenue to the city of $6,418.94 on payments due in the past. These are not on unsecured personal taxes, but only on the classifications above stated.

ADDRESS ON RUSSIA AROUSES MUCH TALK

Madame Barry Orlova, world traveler, actress and well known speaker on international problems, was introduced by playwright, Martin Flavin and addressed a large audience at the Community Playhouse a week ago on "Russia Yesterday and Today," followed by a forum in which many political beliefs relative to Russia were aired.

She told from first hand observation of Russia before the war, when she was married to a Russian nobleman and had intimate glimpses into the many phases of native life, sketched the elements that kept working toward revolution, both within the royal family and from without such as English, German and French struggle for trade supremacy in the great empire.

Then came the days of war with their treachery, bravery and approach toward collapse, with the parade of idealists in high positions, and then the coming of the implacable Lenin and the hatred that motivated him to accomplish the final destruction of the old order of Russian life. She told feelingly of the Russian peasant and stressed the fact that he was the very fiber of the nation, and continues so today, and she questioned if the present attempt to teach literacy can improve the age-old culture that peasants acquired through their theatres and other universal means of basic learning. Literacy, she contended, did not always mean wisdom.

In the forum many distinguished speakers, Communist and otherwise, arose to question her words, to differ with one another and generally enliven the evening. Martin Flavin, Rhys Williams, Ella Winter, Francis Whittaker, Langston Hughes, colored writer, and other radicals brought up discussions, and Madame Orlova showed admirable command of her subject in answering them.

Paul Dougherty, artist, brought applause by defending the American heritage and its meaning to our own young people who need not look to Russia for stimulus. Madame Orlova agreed with this and stressed need for construction rather than revolution to pull the world out of its present condition, and the evening closed in a flurry of general talk on the subjects involved.

Mrs. Jessamine Rockwell and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Elliott spent Sunday in Berkeley with Mrs. Rockwell's son and Mrs. Elliott's brother, John Rockwell, who is a student at California.

Miss Frances King of Palo Alto visited Beth Sullivan for a few days.
